

University Chorale of Boston College
“Pops on the Heights,” September 2020

In September 2020, we were in the midst of the pandemic, and group-singing was not permitted (nor were concerts with live audience).

The Boston Pops worked with Boston College to create a “Virtual Pops on the Heights” which was live-streamed.

The Conductor was Keith Lockhart.

The guest soloist was Josh Groban.

All the music was pre-recorded.

For the “Finale” of the concert, the University Chorale of Boston College and the Boston College Marching Band created a “virtual performance video” of “For Boston,” by T. J. Hurley.
